

Dowsing and Lock Down

An experiment;- Is there an effect without human interaction?

Oh dear should have seen this coming!

I can not, I should not, I may not. I must not.gov.uk! Only kidding

Having realised there would be no gathering in numbers at the Hurlers and especially no breakfast! I was then tentatively invited to Pentillie Circle depending on Government guidance.

That turned out to be a no go as well so permission asked for and granted by the owners, and “the management” to dowse on my own, definitely social distancing except for the Guardian of Place that also did not mind my dodging about among the stones.

Friday the 19th was when the owner gave permission and said he would unlock the gate to the car park. He did not say said car park would be full of 15-20 Bullocks! Needless to say I did not dare open the gate so went over the top and told the Bullocks to mind their own business when they pranced all round me, so over the 2nd gate and down to the circle I was amazed that I met the energy (Aura) of the circle so soon as I approached from the West. The rest of the results are on the next pages. I can still hardly believe the amount of changes there were in so short a time and no human activity to attribute it to as we are inclined to do at The Hurlers. Incidentally all measurements are subject to very minor error as my 30 ft. metal retractable tape measure decided not to retract so I had a fight with it each time I moved round the circle.

Dowsing Pentillie Circle in Lock Down

Distance/Map dowse at home some information I remember from site visits last year but not necessarily correctly. So this is my method.

With the map to my left out of direct line of sight and pendulum in my right hand I moved my finger around the circle and it's surrounds looking for a reaction on the pendulum to my questions as I went. I was able to mark the position of -;

The spiral within the circle.

The sensitive healing point we knew of

The position of the Guardian of Place. *

The distance of influence of the whole circle (it's own “Aura”).

The position of the centre of the ley that joins the circle from ENE

The position of the centre of the ley that leaves the circle to the ESE

OR is the Ley coming in from the ESE and going out ENE? Or is it a different kind of line?

I dowsed for the energy direction and found one side of the ley goes one way and the other side the opposite direction! (did not dowse for strength each way until Sunday 28 June!)

During the 1st week of June map dowsing results as follows

“Aura” of whole circle only 3ft.10 inches. Outside the stones.

Ley line from the ENE 5ft 6 inches wide

Ley line on ESE angle also 5ft 6inches

On the 19 June physically dowsed on site ENE Ley line was 16ft 6inches wide

On the 19 June physically dowsed on site ESE Ley line was 20ft.2inches

On 19 June the “Aura” of the whole circle was 27ft. 2inches outside the stones.

On 21st June approx. 9am onwards (no I did not get up there at 4 am as I did not wish to tangle with the Bullocks in the dark) but I was there physically but at 9am.

The “Aura” outside the circle was now 36ft.on the East side at 9am (as I left it was down to 29ft)

The “Aura” to the West was 32ft 6inches (down to 27ft when I left)

The Ley on ENE side was now 37ft. 3inches.(ie +13’3on N side and +7’6 on the East side)

The Ley on ESE side was now 48ft 11inches.(ie +15’3 on south side and +13ft 6 on East side)

* With regard the position of the Guardian, this led to a discussion at home as the Guardian had been inside the circle when it was first dowsed in 2018 so dowsing again at home it was agreed that it had actually repositioned itself since that date.

Remote/map/ dowsing 25 June 2020

The Ley energy line on the ENE side indicated as 8ft. 6 inches wide..

The Ley energy line on the ESE side indicated as 10ft. 2 inches wide.

The Aura of the circle indicated as 8ft.5inches.outside the stones.

28 June 2020 on site

ENE.....16ft.10inches (4ft+12ft 10inches)Energy on a scale 1-10 was 8 in both directions

ESE.....14ft 5inches (5ft.3inches+9ft. 2inches.) Energy was 6 in both directions

Aura.....26ft.

This would indicate to me my map dowsing is inaccurate.

Note the change in width and strength having passed through the circle, is gaining or losing strength on the way?

ESE ley line changes in width.

If the poles on the picture are not clear see below where;-

H =home dowse5ft 6nches Approx. 2 June and H 25 June

F = Friday 19 June 20ft.2 inches

S = Sunday 21 June48ft.11 inches

Sunday 28 June14ft.5inches.

See text for measurements of uneven increment of width on each side!

Not to scale

Having already filled in the page with my rambled "In conclusion" I woke or was woken (mischief or management) and found I was remembering a weird phenomenon from Friday 19th June. When I was dowsing the ENE section of the energy line the rods gave me the first side and then a sudden violent cross of the rods against my chest, so surprised I said out loud "is that the middle" and got a confirmation and moved on to the other side of the line. (I assumed I had been given the middle of the line unasked for). It did occur to me that the dowsing was trying to tell me more. Now I know I should have thought more about it at the time. Now (at 2.30 am) was wondering if the dowsing was actually trying to make me realise that the two energy directions were of uneven widths (which of course I did not notice until measuring on the Sunday) because the increments showed up so blatantly different on both sides and I had to measure separate side because the tape was too short! Then before falling back to sleep the thought occurred to me that we might have two line here running together trying to balance out something in the planet.

Then of course this could all be a load of rubbish and I probably need help anyway

One thing I do know is dowsing can answer some questions but it throws up lot more unanswered ones.

In conclusion

I have enjoyed this project as I hope anyone reading it will too. However I am fully aware (or may be not) of my short comings in the dowsing world and there are lots of other questions that could have been asked or things that could have been done differently. I should probably have gone into things like,

Was the ley/energy line drawn to the circle after it was built?

Was the ley/energy line already there before the circle was built?

If it was there before the circle was it drawn to something there many moons ago?
Such as a standing stone that is now in some barn on the estate or even lying buried not far away.

If so is that why the constructor of the circle was drawn to actually put it there in that position without realising there was an influence they knew nothing about?

How far does the line go in each direction?

Does it go of in a straight line to other points of energy?

More likely, does it wander about snake like from point to point, that is yet another puzzle for us poor mortals?

I found it strange the line did not reach to the centre of the circle during its change of status.

The way the line curves around from roughly ENE to ESE suggests to me that it almost follows the rising and setting sun at the time of the solstice. Measuring this is beyond my expertise at the moment. Even if it does not follow the sun now maybe it did in the past before the Earth wobbled!

Making up all these ideas of things to do is just as much fun as what I have already done so any more ideas and theories would be interesting.

I did actually ask if this two way energy related to two lines running together and was given a yes but I have never heard of this sort of happening so close like twins.
