Devon Dowsers - What's on in October and ## Monthly Magazine.

Welcome to the October edition.

Gosh, here we are, the Autumn equinox already feeling like a distant memory and the nights drawing in at a rate of knots. Usually I become rather maudlin at the thought of the summer passing and the winter beckoning , but this year (in part due to the work that I have done over the past year with Dr Karen Stead-Dexter) I am actually looking forward to dark nights warming myself by the fire and taking time to be rather than do.

We have plenty to really appreciate over the next month and beyond.

Two stand out events are with amazing and well known personalities, Veda Austin talking in Exeter about her latest explorations in the world of water and all its wonders and profound truths for us as co-creators of our lives; and Pam Gregory, internationally respected astrologer on what 2025 offers and the ways that we can welcome in change and the light into our lives. We also have a shared zoom with Gwilym Morus-Baird on sacred wells and the Celtic tradition, as well as the usual Dowsing Development, Video and Book Club and once again the Healing Group.

A date to put into your diaries if you can is our Christmas party which is set in Spreyton for the 15th December. Further details to follow soon.

I hope that we can see you during the next month and as always, enjoy your dowsing!

Very best wishes,

Trevor Ives

Other Events in October

Saturday 12 October

Veda Austin is holding a talk at the Mint Exeter This is fully sold out but is a really exciting event where Veda will share her latest discoveries with water and be an opportunity to purchase her latest book on this most important of elements and the consciousness that it exhibits in so many ways.
